About Ministry of Stories

Ministry of Stories champions the writer in every child.

Co-founded by author Nick Hornby in 2010, we help young people discover their confidence, imagination and potential through the power of their writing. We develop self-respect and communication skills through innovative writing programmes and one-to-one mentoring for children living in under-resourced communities, working in schools, and at our dedicated writing centre in east London. We empower young people to write brighter futures for themselves through the power of their ideas, creativity and imagination.

Inspired by San Francisco's 826 Valencia, you'll find us hidden behind our fantastical shop Hoxton Street Monster Supplies, which has been serving London's monster population (and the occasional human) since 1818. All proceeds from our monstrous offerings such as Cubed Earwax and Thickest Human Snot go back to support our work with young people.

Our programme currently includes:

- Weekly Community Writing Labs and holiday programmes for children and young people, hosted at our writing centre in Hoxton
- A Schools Programme delivering creative writing-led educational workshops, projects and training that support the school's needs
- A National Training offer, supporting cultural and education organisations around the country to embed Ministry of Stories methodology for the benefit of their local children, young people and wider communities

Opportunity to join the Board of Trustees

The Ministry of Stories Board of Trustees is looking for new trustees. We're looking for people who share our vision of inspiring and supporting young people's ideas, imagination and voice through their creativity and writing. You will have the skills, time and passion to be an important part of our pioneering organisation, helping us grow and develop, and keeping young people and creativity at our heart.

- Contribute to the setting and shaping of the Ministry of Stories strategic direction
- Contribute to good governance, including best practice of working with children, young people, and schools
- Champion our work by supporting our programme activities, attending our events and being an ambassador for the charity through your networks

About You:

You will have:

- A good awareness of education policy and practice, and the current opportunities and challenges schools are facing
- An understanding of the educational context, preferably in both east London and nationally
- Credibility and be well networked within the education community, with the ability to unlock or influence strategic relationships at local authority, Multi Academy Trust and headteacher level
- Be able to broker partnerships and funding opportunities for our schools work
- A passion for creative education and a strong commitment to the principles underlying the work of the Ministry of Stories: belief in the power of children's imagination, ideas and voice
- An understanding and commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Appointment terms:

Trustees serve an initial three-year term and are then eligible for re-appointment for a second three-year term. Chair and vice-chair/s are eligible for a third-term.

The full board meets 4-6 times per year, usually with an additional away day. These meetings are a mix of on-line and in person, and typically take place on weekdays in the early evening.

In addition, all trustees are expected to sit on at least one sub-committee, currently Finance and Fundraising, and Business and Programme.

All trustees are expected to attend at least one Ministry of Stories project or event per year.

Remuneration

All trustee posts are voluntary. Reasonable expenses will be reimbursed.

Governance

The Ministry of Stories is a registered charity (no 1138553), governed by a Board of 8-12 trustees. Its trading activity is delivered by a separate trading company, Hoxton Street Monster Supplies, which is run under licence from Ministry of Stories and is governed by a separate Board of Directors. All profits from the trading company are returned to Ministry of Stories. The Board delegates responsibility to designated sub-committees (currently Finance and Fundraising, and Business and Programme) which advise the full board. Sub committees may include staff, board members and expert advisors. All Trustees run the charity in accordance with its governing document.
